HAROLD

There's nothing to be uncomfortable about. I'm a man of science. Sex is a perfectly natural act -- unless you're into weird stuff. You're not into weird stuff, are you?

GAVIN

No. I don't think so. This isn't right. I have to go.

GAVIN CROSSES TO THE OFFICE AS KEVIN ENTERS WITH A BAG.

KEVIN

Got your bagel, Mr. Miller.

KEVIN CROSSES TO STUART AND KATRINA. SKYLER IS NEARBY.

STUART

(SOTTO; TO KATRINA) I think I've got an idea for a prank.

KEVIN HANDS HIM THE BAG.

KEVIN

Here you go.

STUART TAKES THE BAGEL OUT OF THE BAG.

STUART

(DISPLEASED) What's this?

KEVIN

An onion bagel. Isn't that what you wanted?

STUART HOLDS UP THE BAGEL.

STUART

No. I said pumpernickel.

KEVIN

Are you sure?

STUART

I think I know what kind of bagel I like. I asked for pumpernickel.

KEVIN

Oh. I'm sorry.

STUART

Oh, you're sorry. ~~Let's see if that~~
~~is a pumpernickel bagel. I asked for a pumpernickel~~
~~bagel. (Onions, milk) Nope.~~ Kevin, if you can't understand the difference between an onion bagel and a pumpernickel bagel, I don't know what you're good for.

STUART GIVES KATRINA A KNOWING GLANCE.

KEVIN

(EXPLODING) Don't you ever talk to me like that again! Ever.

STUART

Huh?

KEVIN

I'm a person. I deserve respect.

STUART

I was just kidding around.

KATRINA

We thought it would be funny.

KEVIN

It wasn't. (TO STUART) Now are you going to eat that pumpernickel bagel or do I have to force it down your throat?

STUART

I'll eat it.

KEVIN

Damn right you will, Dickweed!

KEVIN CROSSES OFF.

STUART

That was awkward.

KATRINA

Damn right it was, Dickweed.
